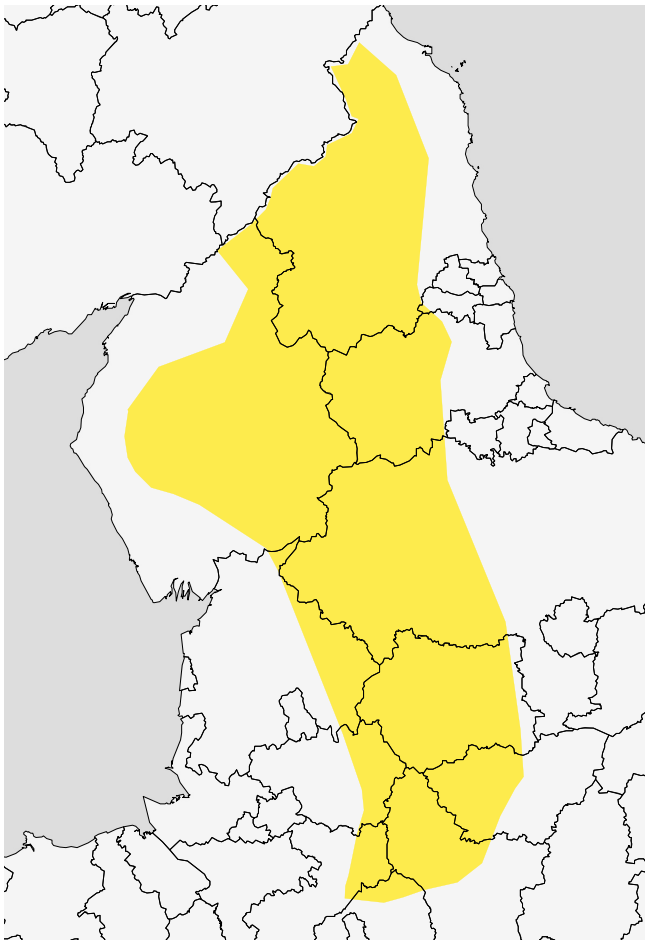
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
03:00 Mon 2 Apr 2018 and
23:59 Mon 2 Apr 2018



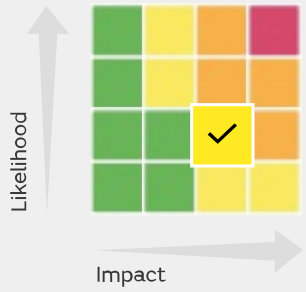
Heavy snow is expected over parts of northern England, especially for high ground.

What to expect

- There is a chance of travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled rail and air travel
- There is a small chance that some rural communities could become cut off
- There is a chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected

Further details

As a weather system moves in from the south and comes up against cold air over the UK, rain has turned to heavy snow, mainly on hills. A further 5-10 cm of snow is expected to accumulate in places, mainly above 300-350 m, with a chance of 2-5 cm accumulating below this, mainly above 200 m. There is also the possibility of a couple of cm of wet snow to settle locally at lower levels for a time, before snow turns back to rain. Strong winds are also expected which will likely lead to some drifting of snow on the high ground.



Low likelihood of medium impacts
